1. THE DEAN’S DESK

Dear brothers and sisters,

The staff and faculty are gearing up for another exciting and enriching semester with you. We just finished our annual “day of prayer and feasting” to start the year off with one mind and spirit. If you haven't been around this summer, you might have missed some groups we've been thrilled to host. A new English language and American culture immersion program in June was well received by a group of Korean students. In September we will welcome a new year long cohort of international daytime students for a Theological English as a Second Language program. If you’d like to host any of these students or promote a home stay opportunity in your church, please contact Dr. Alison Littauer. We also hosted the largest ever group of missionary recruits for SIM. They come for pre-field training six times a year. Our global dimension was so tangible - with missionaries on one side of the building and Koreans on the other! This is a picture of what is to come. Stay tuned for updates on the building campaign and more evidence of God's calling for the Charlotte campus.

Yours for the Kingdom,

Dr. Tim Laniak, Dean
Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary - Charlotte

This summer we have added new titles in theology, biblical studies, church history, missions and Christian ethics. Over the next several weeks we will purchase a variety of new volumes related to Christian leadership and the counseling program.

Two new volumes have just been added to Reference and Cooley shelves that you will find especially helpful:

- The two-volume Oxford Encyclopedia of South Asian Christianity (2011) focuses on Christianity in India, Pakistan, and other countries in this large region. Students engaged in historical and missions related studies will find this work of value to research.

- The Oxford Encyclopedia of Ancient Egypt (2000) has just been added to the collection at the request of Dr. Cathy McDowell. This three-volume work will be helpful for students engaged in Ancient Near Eastern studies as well as Old Testament studies and exegesis.

The library director welcomes your suggestions for books to add to the Gordon-Conwell Charlotte library. Please contact him at bmayergcts.edu with any suggestions that you have for the collection.
