TH 605: Systematic Theology II
Dr. Jack Davis, Instructor
Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays 9-12 a.m.
January 2013

Introduction

TH 605 is a continuation of TH 504 and includes a study of the doctrines of creation, providence, man, sin, and the person and work of Christ. The purpose of the course is to explore the biblical foundations of these doctrines; to understand them in the context of their historical development; and to understand their implications for the contemporary problems of church and society. The instructor will also provide bibliographic help for further study.

Textbooks

Davis, Handbook of Basic Bible Texts

Erickson, Christian Theology, 2nd ed., chpts. 18-40

Davis, Meditation and Communion with God

Requirements

1. Regular class attendance and participation in class discussions.

2. Write a 10-15 page research paper, typed, double-spaced, on a topic germane to the course. Due date: on or before Monday, February 4th at 4 p.m.

Study Questions

1. How did the biblical doctrine of creation contribute to the rise of modern science?

2. Show how the doctrine of creation is related to other important doctrines such as man, salvation, the mission of the church, and eschatology.

3. What are the most important biblical arguments for an "old earth"? A "young earth"? How do you assess the scientific evidence?

4. Contrast a biblical understanding of time and history with nonbiblical views. What ethical consequences do such views have?

5. Comment on key ideas in Darwinian evolution. What scientific problems exist for Darwinian theory?

6. How are demons and principalities and powers related in the biblical world view? Where do they fit in the larger framework of Christian theology, and what significance do they have for Christian ministry today?

7. Define the term providence and discuss its biblical basis. How can God’s providence be reconciled with massive evil and suffering in the world?

8. If God is in control of the world of nature, should we see the AIDS epidemic as a divine punishment? Why or why not?

9. Why do Christians suffer? Give six or seven possible reasons. What pastoral implications follow from this multiplicity of causes?

10. What is meant by the term "cultural mandate"? Why is the concept significant for Christian missions and for a theology for the laity?

11. What, in your view, are some important features of a biblical philosophy of education?

12. Briefly outline a biblical perspective on the role of the family in God’s plan.

13. Does the Bible provide guidelines for evaluating various philosophies of government authority and power? What are these principles?

14. Do you consider theistic evolution a viable option for understanding the origins of the human race? What issues are at stake?

15. What does the Bible mean by the concept of the "image of God"? What is the ethical significance of this teaching? Is the "image" present before birth?

16. Respond to the charges that the doctrine of original sin is "unfair" and that it has questionable biblical support.
17. How would you define the essence of sin? What is the “unforgivable sin” of Mk. 3:29?

18. Explain the term “enhypostatic human nature.” Why is this term significant for Christology?

19. What is the theological significance of the Virgin Birth? Does it imply a docetic Christology?

20. Do you think Jesus could have suffered from a common cold? Why or why not?

21. If Jesus is fully human, could he have yielded to temptation?

22. If Jesus was God, how could he be limited in knowledge (Mk. 13:32)?

23. In a conversation with a Jehovah’s Witness, how would you show from scripture that Jesus is equal to God?

24. Explain the meaning of the “kenosis” passage in Phil. 2:5-11, and comment on its ethical significance.

25. Comment on four major “models” or explanations of the atonement in the New Testament.

26. Is the concept of a penal, substitutionary atonement supported by scripture? Why is it so unpopular in modern scholarship?

27. Assess the merits of alternative theories of the atonement such as the “moral influence,” “governmental,” and “Christus Victor” theories.

28. How is the resurrection of Jesus related to other aspects of New Testament teaching?

29. What is the theological significance of the Ascension? Where is the body of the Risen Christ now?
