WM 720 Overseas Missions Practicum Orientation
Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary

Spring, 2015  Instructor: Paul Martindale

Course Description:
The purpose of this course is to provide a practical orientation for students planning to minister cross-culturally with the Overseas Missions Practicum (WM 721). This course is a required pre-requisite, reflecting our commitment to the necessity of proper preparation before ministering cross-culturally, as well as the importance of representing the Seminary and the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ well. The course is a combination of lectures, discussions, and student presentations that are combined to provide an appropriate preparation for a meaningful cross-cultural experience. The course will also serve to assist students who will be responsible for organizing short-term mission trips for their local churches or mission organizations.

Course Objectives:
1. To deepen our burden for unreached people groups.
2. To promote global awareness among our student body.
3. To provide a realistic overseas missions experience for our students and an opportunity to work in partnership with our overseas missions partners and national Christians.
4. To develop our understanding of frontier missions among the most unreached people groups through practical experience in ministry in those contexts.
5. To develop long-term partnerships in strategic areas of the world with mission agencies and nationals.
6. To work in partnership with local sending churches to effectively target and raise up long-term workers for a particular unreached people group.
7. To provide the necessary missiological reflection and practical preparation for effective service in the student’s overseas placement.

Required Reading, Texts (734 pages):
Required Reading, Articles: you will also be asked to read various articles on short-term missions and missions in general. These articles are on reserve in the library and will also be posted on the CAMs website for this course:
Articles by Dr. Andrew Walls: “The Gospel as Prisoner & Liberator of Culture” and “The Ephesian Moment”

Other Course Requirements:
1. Mission “area” or “people” Study: You are to submit a missions “area study” for the country and/or people-group you are preparing to serve. This should be a hybrid of history, missiology and ethnography to achieve the right balance, focus and depth. The study should be organized according to the following areas:

   A. Church History: What is the history of the Christian movement in this country or among this People-group? Is the presence of Christianity ancient or recent? What about the presence of Protestantism? Are there historic Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox, or Uniate churches with a long presence among this people?

   B. Strategic Setting: Do you know of any strategies currently being used or formulated to accomplish one or more of the following: a. Start a church planting movement among these people; b. Bring a witness of the gospel to a particular situation (justice, relief and development etc...); c. Assist in the training and equipping of national leaders or the discipling of new believers; or d. an assessment of the missiological status of one or more of the people groups in your destination country using the WCD or Joshua Project or the IMB resources.

   C. Religious / Historical/political Context: Are there religious or political/historical considerations that should be understood by anyone attempting to promote the gospel in this context? Is there a state church or any civil enshrinement of a particular religion? Is the promulgation of Christianity legal and, if so, are there restrictions or parameters within which the Christian church operates?

The paper does not have a pre-set required length, but it is expected that most papers will exceed ten pages in order to fulfill the above criteria. This project is due by Friday, April 24th by 5 p.m. Please remember to put your P.O. Box on the report.

Or
Theological/Missiological Paper. For strategic purposes, a student in a team may choose to present a 10-12 page paper on a missiological theme which will be helpful to the success of the mission. This must receive advance permission from the professor and is available by special petition only.

2. Class Presentations: You are to make a presentation to the class (15 minutes) on some aspect of your mission area study or missiological paper. If several people are going to the same country, then your team report should focus on different areas or aspects of your research and reflection. This will be determined by the members of the team. Thus, this becomes, in effect, a team project as well as individual presentations. The presentation should be done in a professional and well-prepared manner. (In short, no mumbling, no reading long lists of boring facts etc.) The purpose of this assignment is, in part, to teach students how to make short, clear and compelling presentations, an essential task for the missionary.

3. Textbook Reading: Each student is responsible for reading all of the textbooks in their entirety. The textbooks will be essential for in-class discussions on issues of cross-cultural communication. In addition, at the end of the semester a reading report is due stating what percentage of the textbooks you have read. Please remember to put your P.O. Box on everything you turn in. The reading report is due May 4th.

4. OMP Chapel: In April there will be an OMP “send off” chapel. You should make arrangements to be in the chapel by 11:00 a.m. at the latest for last minute logistical instructions. Your participation in this chapel is required and will be a part of your overall grade. This is an opportunity for the Seminary community to stand with you, pray for you and be a part of your sending team.

5. Other Interactions. Essential to the objectives of this class is effective interaction among the members and appropriate team building and relational bonding. Each team will meet during the semester to pray and prepare together for the trip. Each student should make an effort to attend some of the occasional mission forums at the Seminary.

Grading: The following criteria will be used in assessing the final grade:

- Area Study: 30%
- Class Presentation: 25%
- Textbook Reading: 25%
- OMP Chapel: 10%
- Team Meetings/Mission Forums: 10%

The Grading Scale is as follows: A+ 97-100; A 94-96; A- 90-93; B+ 87-89; B 84-86; B- 80-83; C+ 77-79; C 74-76; C- 70-73; D+ 67-69; D 64-66; D- 60-63; F 0-59.
DUE DATE FOR ALL WRITTEN WORK: May 4th.

Eligibility to participate in OMP: Students who wish to participate and gain full academic credit in the Overseas Missions Practicum at Gordon-Conwell must meet the following minimum standards:
1. A minimum of a six week experience
2. The project and ministry must be appropriately supervised
3. The ministry must belong to ECFA and/or Missio Nexus
4. Dr. Martindale must grant approval in writing to enable the student to utilize OMP name and funds
5. The student must have the support and sponsorship of a local church that is attested to in writing to the OMP office. This does not necessarily imply that a local church will be financially supporting you.
6. The student must take (or audit) WM 720, OMP Orientation

Class Format and Schedule: The class meets in a non-traditional format in order to better achieve the objectives of team building and relational bonding. Thus, the class will meet on three weekends as follows:
- Friday, February 13th 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. 2.0 hours
- Saturday, February 14th 9:00 - 12:00; 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. 5.0 hours

Policy for the use of the OMP Fund at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary
Ten Commandments of the OMP Fund

1. No Gordon-Conwell student is required to participate in the OMP fund. If a student seeks to participate in the OMP fund, this must be made known to the professor in writing by no later than March 1. A student cannot be partially funded by the OMP fund and partially funded through other means. To opt into the fund means to direct all fund-raising to the OMP fund. In some cases, our global partners request that all participants on the team raise money through their mission agency.

2. Upon special permission of the director of missions programs, a church or other sending agency may send a single check for a student through the OMP fund who, otherwise, is not participating in the OMP fund. This is normally only allowed in order to more efficiently coordinate team expenses or purchase airline tickets together etc. This option is sometimes used when an entire team is working through the OMP except for one team member.

3. Spouses (and by special permission, children) of current Gordon-Conwell students who are also participating in the OMP program may also fully participate in the OMP fund. However, aside from this exception, no non-Gordon Conwell student may participate in the OMP fund, even if they are participating in the OMP under separate permission from one of our world partners or another participating mission agency. By special petition to the Director of Missions Programs, a Gordon-Conwell alumni who is going as a team leader may be granted permission to raise funds and to utilize the OMP fund.

4. No additional requests for reimbursements may be made from the fund until the airline tickets have been purchased and the overall fund-raising (for the individual) exceeds the advertised cost of the trip. Examples of approved additional requests are as follows: cost of visa, cost of passport, stamps, prayer letters, medical costs (not to exceed $400), film (not to exceed six rolls). The fund will not reimburse for the purchase of gifts, souvenirs, digital memory chips, language learning tapes and other items as determined by the Director of the OMP program. All requests for reimbursement must be approved by the Director of Missions Programs or Global Programs Administrator and must be submitted by September 15th.

5. If a student is unable to raise the total cost required for the trip then it is understood that he/she will be permitted to go on the trip only by special permission from the Director of Missions Programs. Normally, a student who does not at least raise sufficient funds to pay for the plane ticket will not be permitted to participate in an OMP. Students who are permitted to participate in the OMP program but whose funds fall significantly below the cost of the trip may be required to perform additional fund raising upon return from the trip on behalf of the OMP fund.
6. No student participating in an Uttermost Parts team can make any request from the fund which exceeds their personal fund-raising amount unless the overall amount of the Uttermost Parts Team fund raising exceeds the stated amount of each of their respective trips.

7. All requests for reimbursements from the OMP fund must be accompanied by receipts or the request cannot be processed. Likewise, all cash advances from the OMP fund must be reconciled later with appropriate receipts or the funds must be returned to the OMP account. Both reimbursements as well as cash advances require the signature of the Director of Missions Programs or the Global Programs Administrator as well as a senior staff person in the Office of Financial Affairs.

8. All gifts into the OMP fund are final. No donations sent into the OMP fund on behalf of a student or team or as an undesignated gift can be returned to the donor, even in the event that the student does not participate in the OMP or the team trip is cancelled. In case of cancellation, the Seminary will endeavor whenever possible to re-direct the student to another approved OMP whereby the funds can be used according to their designation.

9. Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary reserves and retains all rights over the disbursement and use of the OMP fund. The fund is set up for the purpose of fulfilling the programmatic goals of the missions programs under the supervision of the Director. The Director of Missions Programs, under the counsel and advisement of the Academic Dean and the Dean of Students, reserves the right (in rare circumstances) to deny any student or students the right to participate in an OMP if the safety or well-being of the student or other team members cannot be sufficiently guaranteed, or due to other extenuating circumstances. A waiver of liability form must be signed by all students participating in the OMP program.

10. Due to rare, unforeseen circumstances, the cost of an OMP may be subject to change from the published price in the Fall brochure, at the discretion of the Director of Missions Programs in consultation with the Dean of Academic Affairs and our OMP world partners.
